LONDON SPORTS COUNCIL

The London Sports Council believes the skill development, socialization, fitness and life experience benefits of community sport and recreation participation contribute significantly to each persons' positive growth and development in reaching their individual potential. In working for the common good of sport and recreation for all within an environment of trust, integrity and respect, we continually and actively work towards meeting the evolving needs of Londoners and youth for sport and recreation opportunities and experiences.

The London Sports Council's mandate is "Sport for All" through our mission statement which is the following:

- Promoting the availability and benefits of sport and recreation.
- Developing opportunities for networking, mentoring and leadership development in the sport and recreation community.
- Providing leadership and a voice for collective sports and recreation initiatives.
- Celebrating sport achievements and the value of volunteers.

The purpose of KidSport London is to help local kids overcome social and economic barriers, which have prevented or limited their participation in sport, through issuance of registration fee and/or equipment grants. The London chapter provides funding for kids from ages 8 to 18 in a variety of sports. All monies raised in London stay in London to benefit the young athletes in our city.
